

Emotions

Clinic

"The following signal is recorded equally and in phase on both channels, and should provide a central image."

In your own wide arc, your emotions will spark
Off the body not slaved, full of bottles and games

Now see you well and become your own
Knowing the chapters here that you close
Fill in the gaps as half your mind is gone

Now ready, pull up your chair, all emotions laid bare
Off the body unhinged, full of bottles and tin

Now see you well and without more tears
Knowing that walls and walls have ears
Fill in the gaps as half your mind is gone

You pour your own
You pour your own
You pour your own
When pour your own from the flask
