You're Gonna Leave Me Again

Clint Black

Just like a re-run movie
I see that scene again
And that feeling shoots right through me
'Cause this time I know the end
And I've seen it played so many times
And I've watched it frame by frame
And I don't have to guess who loses
And I know who'll feel the pain

[Chorus]
You're gonna leave me again
Just like you did the time before
This is the start of the end
The end of me when you walk out that door

I think I'll go down to the picture show
See if they're playin' somethin' new
Maybe one with a happy ending
And I'll pretend it's me and you
But I know that it's just make-believe
So I won't even try
To tell myself that you're not gonna leave
And that you'll never say goodbye

[Chorus]
