PANIC ATTACK

Clinton Kane

On the inside
I'm sick about it
Choking on nothing but air
I don't know if I
Will make it out of this
Living is too much to bare

And why is it so hard to breathe?
And why can't I feel anything?
Trying my best but it's fleeting
The world is crashing on me

Don't know what to do
I don't wanna think about it
I'm losing myself in it all
To tell you the truth
There's no hope when I'm in it
I'm drowning alone in my arms

And it's too loud
For me to fight it
So I give in to me giving up
And I'm not proud
When I try to hide it
But the colder, the more I feel numb

And why is it so hard to breathe?
And why can't I feel anything?
Trying my best but it's fleeting
The world is crashing on me

Don't know what to do
I don't wanna think about it
I'm losing myself in it all
To tell you the truth
There's no hope when I'm in it
I'm drowning alone in my arms

Scared of my own life
Reflection in my eyes
Wondering if God even cares for me at all
Scared of my own life
Reflection in my eyes
Wondering if God even cares at all

Don't know what to do
I don't wanna think about it
I'm losing myself in it all
To tell you the truth
There's no hope when I'm in it
I'm drowning alone in my arms

Don't know what to do
Do 'bout it
I'm losing myself in it all
To tell you the truth
Truth, in it

I'm drowning alone in my arms

I'm drowning alone in my arms
