

Rainbows

CLMD

Know me by the rain
Your unexpected skies
And my impatience aiming
Your river running dry

Maybe one last time, count to ten
One more hide and seek
Find some way to be again
With someone like me

So the river ran dry
From the waves that my ocean became
Now I'm racing the skies
To surprise you again
This circle never ends
So the river ran dry
From the waves that my ocean became
Now I'm racing the skies
To surprise you again
Rainbows in the falling rain

I see you as the sun
And every mile away
As I go round in circles
You're still surrounding me

Maybe one last time, now and then
One more hide and seek
Find some way to way back when
You confide in me

So the river ran dry
From the waves that my ocean became
Now I'm racing the skies
To surprise you again
This circle never ends
So the river ran dry
From the waves that my ocean became
Now I'm racing the skies
To surprise you again
Rainbows in the falling rain
