Late Night Talks

ClockClock

Late night talks in your old apartment
Windows down, your hands on my neck
Take me back to how it all started
They might need a night like this

Baby, you can call me
If you're ever worried
You can put the worry on me, yeah

We used to do this softly
You still be important to each other
Now we lost it, yeah

You can put the blame on me
If I could see you fall asleep
I know, you know what we need
What we need is

Late night talks in your old apartment
Windows down, your hands on my neck
Take me back to how it all started
They might need a night like this

Oh, no
Tell me where to go
All the late night talks in your old apartment
They might need a night like this

Baby, if you say so
Just give me a minute
Know that I'll be on the way home (way home, yeah, yeah)

Days feel like a slideshow
Ever since you said you needed time
You shattered my hopes

You can put the blame on me
If I could see you fall asleep
I know you know what we need
(I know) what we need, yeah

Late night talks in your old apartment (late night talks)
Windows down, your hands on my neck (all around me)
Take me back to how it all started (take me back)
They might need a night like this

Oh, no
Tell me where to go
All the late night talks in your old apartment
They might need a night like this

They might need a-, they might need a night like this
They might need a-, they might need a night like this

Late night talks in your old apartment
Windows down, your hands on my neck
Take me back to how it all started

They might need a night like this

Late night talks in your old apartment
Windows down, your hands on my neck
Take me back to how it all started
They might need a night like this

Oh, no
Tell me where to go
All the late night talks in your old apartment
They might need a night like this

They might need a-, they might need a night like this
They might need a-, they might need a night like this
