

Love U Again

ClockClock

(How can my heart be alive
When you broke it so many times
But I'd love you and love you again
Even though I know you can't)

You're the only door
That I can't keep shut
I'm forever yours
I won't change the lock
I remember when you walked away
Put the bad in the good old days

Cause you, you were out in a minute
But I'm still here
Why do you keep me in it
Oh I'm wondering

How can my heart be alive
When you broke it so many times
But I'd love you and love you again
Even though I know you can't

Oh I'd love you and love you again
I'd love you and love you again
Oh I'd you and love you again
Even though I know you can't

And in years from now
I will picture us
On your best friend's couch
Doing God knows what
I remember you packing your bags
And the baggage is all that you left

Cause you, you were out in a minute
But I'm still here
Why do you keep me in it
And I'm wondering

How can my heart be alive
When you broke it so many times
But I'd love you and love you again
Even though I know you can't

Oh I'd love you and love you again
I'd love you and love you again
Oh I'd you and love you again
Even though I know you can't

(How can my heart be alive)
Oh I'd love you and love you again
(When you broke it so many times)
Oh I'd you and love you again
But I'd love you and love you again
Even though I know you can't

Oh I'd love you and love you again

I'd love you and love you again
Oh I'd you and love you again
Even though I know you can't
