

Over

ClockClock

Haven't heard back in a couple of days
I'm in my bed and texting you "hey"
Can I come over?
Or baby is it over?

When the bar's about to close
And the loneliness unfolds
Without you tonight
Imma lose my mind
On my way back home
You could turn these empty streets
Into somewhere worth to be
But you're out of sight, and the bottom line is:

I know it's you
Ain't nobody I could love like that
I know it's true, but do you?

Haven't heard back in a couple of days
I'm in my bed and texting you "hey"
Can I come over? (Over)
Or baby is it over? (Over)

Trading my heart for pieces of yours
Hate that the time we had was too short
Wait a sec
Hold up (Hold up)
Baby is it over? (Over)

From the day you wanted space
I been counting my mistakes
Tryna reminisce, read old messages
It's driving me insane

Cause it's getting hard to face
That you're gone without a trace
Wonder who you're with, you could plead the fifth, or say:

I know it's you
Ain't nobody I could love like that
I know it's true, but do you?

Haven't heard back in a couple of days
I'm in my bed and texting you "hey"
Can I come over? (Over)
Or baby is it over? (Over)

Trading my heart for pieces of yours
Hate that the time we had was too short
Wait a sec
Hold up (Hold up)
Baby is it over? (Over)

Baby is it over?
Baby is it over?

Haven't heard back in a couple of days

I'm in my bed and texting you "hey"
Can I come over? (Over)
Or baby is it over? (Over)

Trading my heart for pieces of yours
Hate that the time we had was too short
Wait a sec
Hold up (Hold up)
Baby is it over? (Over)

Baby is it over?
