

My Dearest Kate

Closure in Moscow

Before you leave I need to say that my heart has never felt hea vier

You're moving on
You have always been so strong
Now you're too far away to hold

No one to blame
If I were you I'd do the same
Cause the love I've learned has come too late
No don't let it be

All I could see
Was the day that you'd return to me, so selfishly
But your happiness Is somewhere else

I'll live and learn
The candle in my heart will burn
Dim light in the window of a home that you'll never return to

But it's okay
Maybe it should be this way
Yeah my heart break
But it is joy we both deserve

Please don't forget you are the best friend I ever had
And through the hurt, you showed me how love can be pure
And I wish you all the best
I wish you all the best
