

In Silence We Scream

Cloudscape

Overwhelming feelings when a child is born
A true love, a dream
As the child grows up, worries increasing
You're a bringer of harmony
You wanna build a safe way, a guiding light
Direct the path to follow

A parents heart is fragile
Based on honest love
Creating the base step by step
It isn't always easy to raise a child
But, love and warmth must guide your way

In silence we scream
In silence we scream

Put away the nightmares
Give faith and love
Still concerns grow by age
Heart is aching, blinded by your fears
Your love is perpetual

Followning each step from a child to becoming a man you will always be there
It's a heavy burden, a constant feel
Of tears, in smiles, give strength
In silence we scream

In silence we scream
In silence we scream

Bad temptations lead you to anger
Mother's crying, her heart is bleeding
Reaching out setting goals to live for An illusion, now you're dying speak your mind, let it out, no silence

Wasted your life with no ambitions
You see your life like a flash of lightning
The end of time can still be changed

In silence we scream
In silence we scream

Life's a journey with winds of changes
Use your wisdom that's been given
Close your eyes for bad temptations
Stand your ground, keep it safe

In silence we scream
In silence we scream
In silence we scream
In silence we scream
