

Frail Love

CLOVES

Silence is what I fear
Are you, are you here?
A tide of tears appeared for you, my love
Kinder, you're kinder than me
I'm broken, don't know what you see
I'll give you all I have to give, my love

I understand you thinking ohh
Our lies are better than the truth

But I can't live it like I'm living
I can't live a lie
I'm giving up more than I should
Forgive me for my frail love
And I can't live it like I'm living
I can't wait up nights
So tell me once and it's enough
Forgive me for my frail love

Shallow, you're deeper than me
I'll follow my one and only
You give me all you have to give, my love

I understand you thinking ohh
Our lies are better than the truth

But I can't live it like I'm living
I can't live a lie
I'm giving up more than I should
Forgive me for my frail love
And I can't live it like I'm living
I can't wait up nights
So tell me once and it's enough
Forgive me for my frail love

Borderline
I'm walking that borderline
Give me some strength of mind
To hold on to you
Borderline, so close to that borderline
Just let me buy some time
To prove me to you

But I can't live it like I'm living
I can't live a lie
I'm giving up more than I should
Forgive me for my frail love
And I can't live it like I'm living
I can't wait up nights
So tell me once and it's enough
Forgive me for my frail love
