CLOVES

I'll be anything you want
'Til I fall out of these walls, out of your gaze
Was I just some just because?
You make me apart of what's wrong, apart of your stain
Yeah

You're a nightmare
'Cause you're not what you said you are (No, oh, no)
And I get angry
'Cause you know what you really are (No, oh, no)

Marching in your masquerade
Banging words like a war drum, into my brain
Pushed into your blank parade
It's a skill, taking what's real and making it fake
Yeah

You're a nightmare
'Cause you're not what you said you are (No, oh, no)
And I get angry
'Cause you know what you really are (No, oh, no)

(It's not true)
I'll be anything you want
'Til I fall out of these walls, out of your gaze

You're a nightmare
'Cause you're not what you said you are (No, oh, no)
And I get angry
'Cause you know what you really are (No, oh, no)

(It's not true)
