

Be OK

CNBLUE

The cool air wakes me and makes me alive, as always
And then it wants to relieve the darkness inside me

It's time to meet myself in the mirror
Someone looks at me
It's just another side of myself
I just wanna smile
I'll be OK

'It's all right' somebody tells me but
'It's a lie' I can't shout it out

That's not what I thought in my mind
I have missed something
That's not what I wished, but I'll say
'I'll be OK'

In the morning
Everything is alive, as always
But still, the darkness gets me down and
Won't set me free

It's time to meet myself in the mirror
Someone looks at me
It's just another side of myself
I just wanna smile
I'll be OK

'It's all right' somebody tells me but
'It's a lie' I can't shout it out

That's not what I thought in my mind
I have missed something
That's not what I wished, but I'll say
'I'll be OK'

'Are you all right?'
If somebody asks me
'I'm all right' I will shout it out

'It's all right' somebody tells me but
'It's a lie' I can't shout it out

That's not what I thought in my mind
I have missed something
That's not what I wished, but I'll say
'I'll be OK'

I'll be OK
