Oh, wanna change

Oh, wanna change
To when we used to love

Oh, wanna change
To when we used to love

Oh, wanna change
To when we used to love

Oh, wanna change
To when we used to love

Oh, wanna change
To when we used to love

Oh, wanna change
To when we used to love

Oh, wanna change
To when we used to love

Oh, wanna change
To when we used to love

Oh, wanna change
To when we used to love

You weakly said hello
And I predicted our end
Oh, wanna change
To when we used to love

You have no expression
And I tell a light joke
Oh, wanna change
To when we used to love

Trapped in a sad feeling
I can't escape
I'm breaking down at the words "I'm sorry"
What do I do?

My heart stops at this cold love
My heart breaks into pieces
My breath stops at this sick love
My breath slowly dies
Day by day, I wither like a wild flower

A sonata of farewells
Words I know without even hearing them
Oh, wanna change
To when we used to love

Your eyes that are letting go of our love
Your arms that are cold even when I'm in them
Oh, wanna change
To when we used to love

I'm lingering by a painful breakup
I can't shake it off
I'm swaying at the words, "Thank you"
What do I do?

My heart stops at this cold love
My breath stops at this sick love
My breath slowly dies

The tears that were hiding behind my smile
Are falling as if they've waited for it
To when we used to love

I weakly break down at this cold love
Everything that I used to love
My breath stops at this sick love
My breath slowly dies
