

Just Please

CNBLUE

Do you know this song is for you?
The most incredible, ya heard?

Just please know why my heart is beating for you
Just fix what is inside of my shadowed mind
I can't live without you, don't leave me alone
Baby, listen to my growling

This song's for you, dear miss, it's a tale of painful love
From the codename, I'm containing a dizzy chain
That is, what? I couldn't do it 'cause of myself
I was so sick and sick, couldn't handle it myself
I thought she and I were the Bonnie and Clyde
Laugh at me or heal me, and wanna know what I'm singing
Just thanks

I woke up with the sudden notion
And I can't get out of my compunction
Even if I knew how you felt
Now, how you feel, setting such a line of action
Every time I hear your voice
Just starting at the overcast blue sky

From beginning to the termination
I stand on my silly position
Should I ask for your remission?
I'm thinking like that and exploration
'Cause my mind is not so fine
Why don't you come into my mind? Hey-ey-ey
Please listen to my rhyme so that you can look into my life
All of this is not imaginations
I can feel my heart go down
Can someone relax my mind, my mind?

Just please know why my heart is beating for you
Just fix what is inside of my shadowed mind
I can't live without you, don't leave me alone
Baby, listen to my growling
Just please know why my heart is beating for you
Just fix what is inside of my shadowed mind (Yeah-eah-eah)
I can't live without you, don't leave me alone (Without you, without you)
Baby, listen to my growling

Can you know that? How do you think that this way is the right way?
Or go back, it reminds me, not so bad
What can I do? I thought she was my boo
But one day, she will know my truth
Just please, my mind is truth
I'm good, so sorry, my boo
Can you hear? I'm okay with you, I'm okay, all right?
It's all right, it's all right, it's all right, it's all right
