

Someone Else

CNBLUE

I can tell by the look in your eyes something's missin'
(I can tell something's missin')
I know it's hard to say what's really on your mind
(What's really on your mind, girl)
(What's really on your mind)
No matter what you say, baby, know that I can listen
(You know that I'm here, ah)
What can I do to get you through
And make you change your mind?

Console you, control you
How can I decide?
Just to see your smile
Do I let you go?

'Cause when I'm with you
You're not with me
I don't ever really want to let you go
You could give your heart to someone else

'Cause when you're with me
I am with you
Wishing you could find a way to give me all
Instead of giving someone else

Given sometime I really thought I would forget you
(Thought I would forget you)
It's all mistake to think that you are ever comin' back
(Comin' back to me, never comin' back to me)
All of my empty feelings turn to regret
(Turning to regret, ah)
I just wanna call your name and hear you say it back

Console me, control me
What will you decide?
Going back to him to get your love

'Cause when I'm with you
You're not with me
I don't ever really want to let you go
You could give your heart to someone else
'Cause when you're with me
I am with you
Wishing you could find a way to give me all
Instead of giving someone else

Every time that I was with you
You didn't see me
I couldn't find the key to unlock your heart
I was lost and I couldn't find my way
If the only way to you is to say goodbye
To my love

'Cause when I'm with you
You're not with me
I don't ever really want to let you go
You could give your heart to someone else

'Cause when you're with me
I am with you
Wishing you could find a way to give me all
Instead of giving someone else

'Cause when I'm with you
You're not with me, ooh, ooh
Give your heart to someone else
