

Come On Over

Coasts

I can tell that you've been hiding
You're heart under your sleeve
'Cause yesterday I called you
And you were holding back from me
Oh last week we went dancing
And everything was [?]
So why is our sky turning
To a darker shade of blue

Why don't you come on over
And I hold you 'til the light
Creeps through the window
And opens up your eyes
We can watch old movies
When life was black and white
So come on over if only for tonight

If only for tonight

It's no different when we're sober
My head is still a mess
You know that I'm obsessed with
The way you wear that dress
Do you know that you're the reason I live
The reason I live in this way
Do you know that I've been dying to see you
Dying to see you all day

Why don't you come on over
Smoke a couple cigarettes
Get drunk in the kitchen
Listening to The Smiths
We can talk about nothing
To chase away the time
So come on over if only for tonight

If only for tonight
If only for tonight

Come on over
And I hold you 'til the light
Creeps through the window
And opens up your eyes
We can watch old movies
When life was black and white
So come on over if only for tonight

Come on over
Smoke a couple cigarettes
Get drunk in the kitchen
Listening to The Smiths
We can talk about nothing
To chase away the time
So come on over if only for tonight
