

Let Go

Coasts

Out of the sun
And into the sea
What a glorious life
Was waiting for me

Hiding away doesn't seem so strange when
All that you want is in the loneliest place
That in mind you won't believe that
Nothing ever seems as sweet as your skin

So let go
And we can dance to the sound of
This echo
And find the one you know

Travel the world to find a truth you
May never find in your innocence you've
Owned all the things that money can buy
What's with the words and the way that you cry

Try and I'll try and when all is unknown
Swim in the depth in your tropical zone
Hope in your eyes 'cause home is the heart
And nothing ever seems too far

So let go
And we can dance to the sound of
This echo
And find the one you know
Because one day
We can take a different road
So let go
And find the one you know

Do you feel lost
Was it ever enough
Do you feel lost
Where do we belong
Do you feel lost
Was it ever enough
Do you feel lost
Where do we belong

So let go
And we can dance to the sound of
This echo
And find the one you know
Because one day
We can take a different road
So let go
And find the one you know
So let go
Just let go
And find the one you know
