

White Noise

Coasts

Dark clouds are floating overhead
It feels like the calm before the storm
And my friends are getting high
But I got questions on my mind
'Cause I know I'm craving something more
All the lights are shining so bright
And I'll fight through the crowd just to find you

Under the midnight sky
I see you for the first time
And when the night is through
I'll still be falling for you
Everyone's dancing here
But its like we've disappeared
And when the night is through
I'll still be falling for you

With those ripped jeans and flowers in your hair
Wanted to make a move but wasn't sure you cared
Then I saw walking by
And I caught you secretly smiling at me
And it brought me to my knees
All the lights are shining so bright
And I'll fight through the crowd just to find you

Under the midnight sky
I see you for the first time
And when the night is through
I'll still be falling for you
Everyone's dancing here
But its like we've disappeared
And when the night is through
I'll still be falling for you

I've been waiting this whole night
I've been waiting this whole damn night for you
Everything is just white noise
Everything is just white noise but you
I've been waiting this whole night
I've been waiting this whole damn night for you
Everything is just white noise
Everything is just white noise but you

Under the midnight sky
I see you for the first time
And when the night is through
I'll still be falling for you
Everyone's dancing here
But its like we've disappeared
And when the night is through
I'll still be falling for you
I'll still be falling for you
