

Give You Nothing

Cobra Skulls

Hey, everybody's looking but they never can see
All the angst, corruption and the dishonesty
Think about the times and places you've never known
You're a man swarm atom, and yet you're alone

So I give you me
I give you nothing!

I give you me, I give you nothing!

So you've got a place that you can call all your own
But you gotta habit of carrying the stone
Look around and ask someone if you're alive
You're a sidewalk cipher speaking prionic jive

So I give you me
I give you nothing!

I give you me, I give you nothing!

Respectable, despicable, it seems all the same
Now we realize that we have nothing to say
If your reserve is weak, audacity complete
Ask yourself again "do I deserve much from them?" No!

Hey, everybody's looking but they never can see
All the angst, corruption and the dishonesty
Look around and ask someone if you are alive
You're a sidewalk cipher speaking prionic jive

So I give you me
I give you nothing!
