

Money Can't Buy

Cochren & Co.

I set my sights on shiny things
That crumble into rust
That fade into the dust

I bought the lie that someday I
Would finally have enough
But it never is enough

So, wake me up
From this slumber that I'm in
Take me up
To a brand new horizon

Oh Lord, give me eyes to see
That what I need don't cost a thing
You fill my life
With something money can't buy
I'm done chasing after gold
Rip the price tag off my soul
You fill my life
With something money can't buy

(Something money
Something money can't buy
Something money
Something money can't buy)

It's the peace that comes from perfect love
The wonder in the stars
The beating in my heart
Sometimes you gotta stop
And look at what you got
That's when you realize
Ooh, the gift it is to be alive

Oh Lord, give me eyes to see
That what I need don't cost a thing
You fill my life
With something money can't buy
I'm done chasing after gold
Rip the price tag off my soul
You fill my life
With something money can't buy

Your love is all I've ever needed
Only You, only You can wake me up
From this slumber that I'm in
Take me up
To a brand new horizon

Oh Lord, give me eyes to see
That what I need don't cost a thing
You fill my life

With something money can't buy

Money can't buy

Something money can't buy

I'm done chasing after gold

Rip the price tag off my soul

You fill my life

With something money can't buy

(Something money

Something money

Something money can't buy)
