

The Lows

Cochren & Co.

Hard days, yeah you've got 'em
Livin' ain't been easy
Tough breaks hit rock bottom now you're on your knees
And you're praying and wondering when you're gonna see the light of day
Tryin' to keep the faith in a cold hard rain

It's just a storm, it's just a season
It's gonna pass, you just gotta keep on breathing
The hurt leads to the healing and you realize
You can't have the highs without the lows
Without the lows

How can you ever be found if you've never been lost?
Even the darkest night can't hold back the dawn
So when you're prayin'
And wonderin' when you're gonna see the light of day
I promise you it's all gonna be OK

It's just a storm, it's just a season
It's gonna pass, you just gotta keep on breathing
The hurt leads to the healing and you realize
You can't have the highs without the lows
Without the lows

Ooh you're holding out for a break in the weather now
Ooh you're just waiting for it all to come together now

It's just a storm, it's just a season
It's gonna pass, you just gotta keep on breathing
The hurt leads to the healing and you realize
You can't have the highs without the lows
Without the lows
Without the lows
Without the lows
