

Dream

Did you forget how to dream?

So angry it makes you wanna scream

Think you're voiceless and no one can hear you

But I am listening

Breathe

Allow yourself time to breathe

The sound of your breath is relief

And it's gets useless when no one can hear you

But I am listening

It's never dark in the deepest part of your heart

There's always a tiny spark no storm can blow out

Here in the centre of chaos and fear

Above the noise and sirens are no leaves

Like a friendly ghost always near ya

Someone's listening

It's never dark in the deepest part of your heart

There's always a tiny spark no storm can blow out

It's never dark in the deepest part of your heart

There's always a tiny spark

It's never dark in the deepest part of your heart

There's always a tiny spark no storm can blow out
