They call me Wee Willie Winkie I'm tired and blinky Eyeless and poor Promise I don't snore by candle light I kiss the shimmering cheeks of little children Having a mother I lost in the street A skinny jungle child Wayward and windy Sinful and pretty I visit the graves of boys Dead at war Shipwreck sailors Don't ask, don't tell Sweet fragrance of moon has brought me to your room Where you waft milky magic from that ancient loom

I only have eyes for you Oh Lord, please tell me you're watching me too

My mother I seek
I long to curl up meek
In the lap of your laughter
You wanted a daughter
I ain't no Jesus
If you give me a dress
I could become your princess
My mother I seek
I long to curl up meek
In the lap of your laughter
You wanted a daughter
I ain't no Jesus
If you give me a dress
I could become your princess

I only I have eyes for you
Oh Lord, please tell me you're watching me too
