

Too Late

CODE KUNST

Tattoos and symbols
I've never been
Able to read the signs
We're so young and wasteful
All of the things we left behind
So baby won't you listen up
Half the time I'm catching up
But there's no such thing
As giving up
Everything just takes
A little time
We started cleaning up
Everything we're messing up
Because this jealousy
Is testing us
Before we can break it
We still have to make it

So don't you give up on me
It's too late
The future keeps on calling
But it's too late

Snare drums and cymbals
Said I never been one
To quiet down
It's all plain and simple
Let's find the things
That we left behind
So baby won't you listen up
Half the time I'm catching up
But there's no such as giving up
Everything just takes
A little time
We started cleaning up
Everything we're messing up
Because this jealousy
Is testing us
Before we can break it
We still have to make it

So don't you give up on me
It's too late
The future keeps on calling
But it's too late
