

A Memory and a Dream

Cody Jinks

It's a long, hard, and windin' road to where I am right now
A lot of days I wish I could change, but I can't figure how
'Cause all them places that I've been, things that I've seen
I'd be better off dead than goin' there again
And I've been caught somewhere in between
A memory and a dream

Well, I've been screamin' at the world
Since the time I could talk
Well, I've been runnin' into walls
Since the day that I could walk
'Cause all them bottles I've drank, never mind the smoke
Man, the years are gangin' up on me, but I'm holdin' onto hope
And I'm still caught somewhere in between
A memory and a dream

Yeah, ten years gone, I've been around the world
Somehow, I always wind up here
Must be this company I keep, oh it takes me back
And gets me on my feet
Yeah, my life is still exactly what it seems
A memory and a dream

Yeah, ten years gone, I've been around the world
Somehow, I always wind up here
Must be this company I keep, oh it takes me back
And gets me on my feet
Yeah, my life is still exactly what it seems
A memory and a dream

Yeah, my life is still exactly what it seems
A memory and a dream

It's a long, hard, and windin' road to where I am right now
A lot of days I wish I could change, but I can't figure how
