

I Don't Trust My Memories Anymore

Cody Jinks

I could conjure up so many times
From the good old days when she was mine
I could reminisce on the crazy nights
When I held her close, but I always cry

No I don't trust my memories anymore
They ain't the friends I thought they were before
They used to be so fond
Now my faith in them is gone
No I don't trust my memories anymore

Got a thousand scars all across my back
This wounded heart just can't get past
When I see you now in a perfect dream
I wake myself before it turns on me

No I don't trust my memories anymore
They ain't the friends I thought they were before
They used to be so fond
Now my faith in them is gone
No I don't trust my memories anymore

No I don't trust my memories anymore
They ain't the friends I thought they were before
They used to be so fond
Now my faith in them is gone
No I don't trust my memories anymore

They used to be so fond
Now my faith in them is gone
I don't trust my memories anymore
