

Another Double

Cody Johnson

Another double on the rocks since you've been gone
It's how I spend my nights here all alone
In a bar room ain't no place to heal heartache, it's my home
Another double on the rocks since you've been gone

Easy women and hard whiskey bide my time
I drink myself away from you and out of my mind
As that old lonesome song plays on the jukebox empty glass
If she's runnin' round acting single, I need a double fast

So bartender pour me a drink before I start to think
That there's a chance that she might be coming home
I said fill er up to the top
Lord, don't spare me a drop
Another double on the rock since you've been gone

Every night what goes around comes around
I bide myself picking myself up off the ground
I might find myself in the arms of a honky tonk angel before the morning light
Another double on the rocks to ease my mind

So bartender pour me a drink before I start to think
That there's a chance that she might be coming home
I said fill er up to the top
Lord, don't spare me a drop
Another double on the rock since you've been gone
Another double on the rock since you've been gone
