

Four Walls

Cog

I'm stuck in a space
Four walls
In a room again

All I'm needing, all I'm needing,
All I'm looking for is open space

I'm stuck in a space
Four walls
In a room again
But I feel safe
Cause I know where the end begins

All I'm needing, all I'm needing,
All I'm looking for is open space
All I'm needing, all I'm needing,
All I'm looking for is open space

And it's not too long
And it leaves you with a heart that's set in lies
Silent, losing track of time
And it speaks to all
And reminds you that the world you're in is happening
And we're all something more than

Glass, neon and chrome
Brick walls, boxed in again

All I'm needing, all I'm needing,
All I'm looking for is open space

Rather be at home
Rather stay alive
Rather be at home
So I don't die

Helping me to find it

Proving that we're not alone

And no ritual in the round-down of the corners you
Designed
Tears down the walls that keep you dry
And it speaks to all
And it answers all the questions you devised
Yeah, there's no master

I'm stuck in a space
Four walls
In a room again

All it's leading to is the path to another way

Rather be at home
Rather stay alive
Rather be at home
So I don't die

All it's leading to is the path to another way

And it's not too long
And it leaves you with a heart that's set in lies
Silent, losing track of time
And it speaks to all
And it takes you where it's all clear, all here
It's out there
I don't wanna die

Stuck in a space
Four walls
In a room again
