

No Other Way

Cog

Bridges are burning, but faces are looking away.
People are yearning, for someone to show them the way.
Tables keep turning, and time is the price, that we'll
pay.

Fast cars, and freedom as long as you learn to obey.
Fear is the virus they use to divide us,
Hoping we'll all just pretend.
That there's no other way.
No other way.
No other way.
No, there's no other way.

Ordered by a god above,
To murder in the name of love.
And they'll always claim, that truth is on their side.
Holding keys to a paradise,
All their noise is a lullaby.
For years they have ruled over you and I.

All hits and I'm feeling fine,
Uncontrolled and undivided,
No vendetta.
All's clear in a silent mind,
Ain't no words that can describe it,
So much better.

Lay down your guns people and start again,
And stop digging this hole,
Into which we're all sliding.
Screaming down a dead end track,
We took a wrong turn now we're heading back to love,
Once this ship has departed,
Everyone can feel at home.

All invited,
Why not set aside the time to understand your mind?
Throw in your cards people and fold again,

And get back on a roll,
Once this ship has departed,
Everyone can feel at home.

And we're all here looking and they don't move the targets,
That same old moon in orbit,
And feeling like we're cornered all the time,

Cornered,
Cornered all the time,
Cornered,

Standing at the borderline,
Laughing at the borderline,
Crying on the borderline,
Staring at the borderline, again.

All invited,

Humans undivided,
Why not set aside the time to understand your mind?
Take it slowly,
While facts are showing,
Until we're there,
Until we all arrive.

All day and,
All night,
Be love and,
Burn bright.

Bridges are burning, but faces are looking away.
People are yearning, for someone to show them the way.
Tables keep turning, and time is the price, that we'll
pay.
Fast cars, and freedom as long as you learn to obey.

Take it slowly,
While facts are showing,
Until we're there,
Until we all arrive.

Fear is the virus they use to divide us,
Hoping we'll all just pretend.
That there's no other way.
No other way,
No other way,
No other way,
No other way,
No other way...
