Don't Cry, 2020

Coin

When I talk about the future
You've got your arms wrapped around my waist
But let's not talk about the future, no
Tonight is just another day

I can't take you serious, I'm serious
It's your birthday and you're acting all mysterious
You're so concerned about your future, yeah
But tomorrow's just another day

Don't cry
Don't cry
Alright
Oh, it's all gonna be alright

We were summer late bloomers
Fumbling through our teen age
We used to talk about the future
Remember when you couldn't wait?

I can't take you serious, I'm serious
It's your party and you're still in bed, you won't get dressed
I can't take you serious, are you serious

Don't cry
Don't cry
Alright
Oh, it's all gonna be alright

Years go by whether you want them to
Years go by whether you want them to
Years go by whether you want them to
Years go by whether you want them to

Put on your makeup
I laid out your favorite sweater
It's just a number
Darling, dry your eyes

Don't cry
Don't cry
Alright
Oh, it's all gonna be alright
