Coin

My fault, it's all my fault
It's all your fault
I drew you up
It's all awash

I'm not the tip of the ice
The top of the line
The spark to the fire
The all seeing eye

I try to draw you
I'm bothered by a life lived without you
If only I'd known I never have you at all
I'd be a fool

I fought brick by brick
And board by board
I built you up
To more than you're worth

I try to draw you
I'm bothered by a life lived without you
If only I'd know I never have you at all
I'd be a fool

I try to draw you
I'm bothered by a life lived without you
Only to find out I never had you at all
I'm a fool
