

Bruised

Colby Acuff

Could I be something useful
Could I be something true
I'll do anything you ask me
If you can make me anything but bruised

Could you help me hide the past, dear
'Cause it's showing through the rouge
Yeah, this world's a rotten apple
And it's looking a little bruised

And I'm tired of being used to
Everything I'm told to do
Yeah, this life is overwhelming
It's got me feeling a little bruised

I'm going through the motions
But I'm feeling a little confused
And you say that I'm not listening
That's because all your words are bruised

And I'm tired of being used to
Everything I'm told to do
Yeah, this life is overwhelming
It's got me feeling a little bruised

And I'm tired of being used to
Everything I'm told to do
Yeah, this life is overwhelming
It's got me feeling a little bruised
