

End Of The Road

Colby Acuff

You only have one life to live
That's what the Bible says
So try to be the best man you can

I try to lead a simple life
Avoid all kind of lies
And mistakes are your best friends

Today might be my last day
Believe me, that's okay

So when I go bury me
Old river road
Well I hope you sing my songs
They go la-dee-dah-dee-dah
La-dee-dah-dee-dah
Says a few prayers for my soul
At the end of the road
Road

Have to thank my best friends
They made me who I am yeah
We always had a hell of a time

Special thanks to mom and dad
I know that they'd be sad
But believe me, I'm thankful for my life

Yeah today might be my last day
Believe me, that's okay

So when I go bury me
Old river road
Well I hope you sing my songs
They go la-dee-dah-dee-dah
La-dee-dah-dee-dah
Say a few prayers for my soul
At the end of the road

Don't you worry
Don't you cry
I know I'll see you some other time
Where the grass is always greener
Time doesn't fly
I wanna thank you for being in my life

Yeah today might be my last day
Believe me, that's okay

So when I go bury me
Old river road
Well I hope you sing my songs
They go la-dee-dah-dee-dah
La-dee-dah-dee-dah
Say a few prayers for my soul

So when I go bury me

Down that old river road
Yeah boys and I hope you sing my songs
They go la-dee-dah-dah-dah-dee-dah
La-dee-dah-dee-dah
Say a few prayers for my soul
Yeah we all have to go

Oh at the end of the road
