

Don't know why I stay looking for someone new Kissing and we'll keep it turning, that is you
But he's just filling space
What a fucking waste, yeah
You're probably out with all your boys and getting drunk
I'm jealous of the Hennessy that's on your tongue
I never liked the taste
Now I drink it anyways

It reminds me of the way that you felt
In your king-sized bed we had all to ourselves
And I can't get that shit with nobody else
Nobody else

I didn't mean to call you this late
But I been taking all my drinks straight
Thinking maybe it's a mistake that we're over
And I wish that I could say it to you sober
I'ma text you all night
Tryna make up for the lost time
Saying maybe it's a mistake that we're over
And I wish that I could say it to you sober

Boy, you're like a hangover that never ends
I'm playing back the words I wish I'd never said
The nights are all a blur
And I'll probably never learn
'Cause that liquid is courage and I'm feeling brave
When it comes to you, don't know how to behave
No, I'm making it worse
I just miss the way we were

I didn't mean to call you this late
But I been taking all my drinks straight
Thinking maybe it's a mistake that we're over
And I wish that I could say it to you sober
I'ma text you all night
Tryna make up for the lost time
Saying maybe it's a mistake that we're over
And I wish that I could say it to you sober

And without you here it's lonely as hell
In this king-sized bed I got all to myself
But I don't want that shit with nobody else
Nobody else

I didn't mean to call you this late
But I been taking all my drinks straight
Thinking maybe it's a mistake that we're over
And I wish that I could say it to you sober
I'ma text you all night
Tryna make up for the lost time
Saying maybe it's a mistake that we're over
And I wish that I could say it to you sober
