Heavier Than Heaven

Cold Driven

I’ve been given away,
stripped of angels wings.
I couldn’t really help but notice, how the guilty lead the way.
I become so frail,
when you live your life this way,
you’re the thief that learned to steal,
someone’s life away.

I want to say the walk was lonely, but I met murder on the way
so am I heavier than heaven at my sentence today?
Decided by your sins, they won't keep me away
the vengeance of the innocent will be given to me
I'm breathing life into death, seeking for punishment.
Here is the verdict,
there is no justice,
as I am anchored in by your sins the jury was so shameless.
So guilty and yet blameless,
acting so pretentious.
They painted justice grey.

I want to say the walk was lonely, but I met murder on the way
so am I heavier than heaven at my sentence today?
Decided by your sins, they won't keep me away
the vengeance of the innocent will be given to me
I'm breathing life into death, seeking for punishment.
I’ve been given away,
stripped of angels wings.
I couldn’t really help but notice how the guilty lead the way.
Who decides the fate of my life tonight now?

Heavier than heaven at my sentence today.
Decided by your sins, they won't keep me away.
The vengeance of the innocent will be given to me
I'm breathing life into death, seeking for punishment.
Heavier than heaven...
Decided by your sins, they won't keep me away.
Vengeance of the innocent...
I'm breathing life into death, seeking for punishment.
