

Kingdom Come

Cold Driven

Take my life from me
And bury me in blame
Cover all your lies
And leave them in my name

There's nothing left to lose
You took it all away
And now I'm staring through
These dead and weary eyes

The darkness will come
The gallows will call
The streets will turn red
And now you will know I've come for you

My kingdom will come
Take you one by one
My kingdom will come
Take you one by one

There's nowhere to run
There's nowhere to hide
One by one
My kingdom will come

My kingdom come
My kingdom...

Hates the perfect fuel
Revenge becomes the flame
Light your world ablaze
And do it without shame
