

Without You

Cold

Take away all your little things
Life gives exactly what you need
Running away from everyone into me
I can't relieve your suffering
Everything's broken at the seams
Page from the story of your life
Fantasy

I'll be lost without you
Can not feel without you
Might not love without you
And I might be wrong

You were a mystery from the start
Came from the world of stranger things
Running away from everyone into me
You came to kill the things I loved
Tried to replace my family
I can play games as good as you bury things

I'll be lost without you
Can not feel without you
Might not live without you
And I might be wrong

Can not feel without you
Can't go on without you
Might not love without you
And I might be wrong

(I know somethings wrong...)

I won't live without you
Can't have faith without you
Might not love without you
And I might be wrong about you

Can not feel without you
Can't go on without you
Might not love without you
And I might be wrong
