

Coldplay

As much as I could
As much as I tried
I just couldn't seem to find the light

It glows in your eyes
Everything that lives
All the stars in the sky

To all of us
No, don't give up
Storms pass, love lasts
It all goes by so fast

There's an African-American song, 19th Century
Which, erm, is so pretty
It said, "When it looked like the sun
Wasn't gonna shine anymore
God put a rainbow in the clouds
God put a rainbow in the clouds"
And I've had so many rainbows in my clouds
I had a lot of clouds
But I have had so many rainbows
So many rainbows, so many rainbows
