From Today

coldrain

Watching fear take over life
Streets go silent cities die
Tomorrow slowly slipped away
Lost a friend to one more lie

Are we wrong to be afraid?
Are we strong if we pretend?
No matter what, I swear to god
These fucking thoughts
Won't keep me down

These fucking thoughts
Won't keep me down

I'm going loud into the night
Won't give up without a fight
From today from today
You will hear me when I cry
Take my money take my time
You will never take my light
From today from today
All my demons listen to me

Random words turn into knives
Hearts get broken over time
Will we let it be the way
Knowing hate is at it's prime

Am I wrong to be at rage?
Am I strong if I engage?
No matter what, I swear to god
These fucking thoughts
Won't keep me down

These fucking thoughts
Won't keep me down

I'm going loud into the night
Won't give up without a fight
From today from today

You will hear me when I cry
Take my money take my time
You will never take my light
From today from today
All my demons listen to me
Listen to me

Take my money, take my time
You will never take my light
Take my money, take my time
You will never take me

This is my resolution
This is my final stand

I'm going loud into the night

Won't give up without a fight
You will hear me when I cry
Take my money take my time
You will never take my light
From today from today

This is my resolution
Listen to me
