

OPTIMIZE

coldrain

All our hearts
Our bodies and souls
Wired into systems
We rise we fall
Trapped in an artificial dream
Until we don't feel anything

They replicated what we want
To redefine all that we need
Imprisoning reality

So we can sell ourselves to make believe again
I wanna be more than a machine
With broken parts of a memory
I wanna remember us
Remember you, remember me
I wanna be more than a machine
Even when it's obsolete
I wanna remember us
Remember love

I'll be the siren
Breaking the silence they made
To take away,
To tear away our faces and our names

They replicated what we want
To redefine all that we need
Imprisoning reality
So we can sell ourselves to make believe
But this is not the dream

I wanna be more than a machine
With broken parts of a memory
I wanna remember us
Remember you, remember me
I wanna be more than a machine
Even when it's obsolete
I wanna remember us
Remember love

We can fly from this coded night
Say good bye to this fake prophecy
Optimize? Optimize? No

I wanna be more than a machine
With broken parts of a memory
I wanna remember us
Remember you, remember me
I wanna be more than a machine
Even when it's obsolete
I wanna remember us

Just leave us broken
Leave us lost
Complicated miserable

Leave us human
Leave us all
Imperfect and beautiful
Remember us
Remember who we are
