

I knew that this would happen right from the start day by day the distance tears us apart sitting with this useless phone in my hand It's harder because I know that you understand even If I make this call the pain won't go, the pain won't go away but maybe if I let you know you make me stronger could you hold on for me

I know that you've been lying acting alright cuz something's always wrong when we never fight the anger turns to silence and silence turns to hate so say what's on your mind now before it's too late

even If I make this call
the pain won't go, the pain won't go away

everyday it's like we start all over missing pieces of an aching soul but I don't ever want to say it's over because you're the only one that makes me whole

even If I make this call
the pain won't go, the pain won't go away
