

Wrong

coldrain

It always seems to be the same
I'm hating everything again
Your words get underneath my skin
These thoughts are tormenting my head

(By now) I thought I'd be stronger
(By now) I thought I'd be wiser
(By now) I thought I could be Everything you wanted me to be

In too deep

If I could breathe in, free me from the inside
I could hold on for one more day alive
If I could breathe in, free me from the inside
I could hold on for one more day alive
I'm out of time and you're still wrong

My soul was there for the taking
You needed innocent blood
Lost between sleeping and waking
Nothing is ever enough

By now, I thought I'd be better, I thought I'd be farther
But now I'm questioning my every move till I get there
You made me weak again

If I could breathe in, free me from the inside
I could hold on for one more day alive
If I could breathe in, free me from the inside
I could hold on for one more day alive
I'm out of time and you're still wrong

(You're still wrong)
(You're still)
(You're still wrong)
(You're still wrong)
(You're still)

The sun will rise again
If I get through the night (I get through the night)
The sun will rise again
If I get through the night (Night)
So I'll fight tonight
I'll fight to night

Go

If I could breathe in, free me from the inside
I could hold on for one more day alive
If I could breathe in, free me from the inside
I could hold on for one more day alive
I'm out of time and you're still wrong

And you're still wrong
And you're still wrong

By now, I thought I'd be better, I thought I'd be farther
But now you're wrong, you're wrong, you're still wrong
