

If I Said

Colin Blunstone

If I said I loved you
Would it be so bad
Why should it change all that we had
You tell me, he only hurt you once before

How could he do it yo you?
How could he stand to see you sad?
Why does he treat a love so bad?

If I say don't see him
Would it be so wrong
What does it take
To see him gone

If only you could be strong enough to see
That he doesn't matter to you
You should be making other plans
So I feel I have to say
Don't go and throw you life away

He takes, you give
He leaves you lonely
He makes it hard to listen to me

How could he do it yo you?
How could he stand to see you sad?
Why does he treat a love so bad?

When he takes, you give
It leaves you lonely
He makes it hard to listen to me
If I said I loved you, would it be so bad
