You Speak My Language

Collective Soul

All around the world Everywhere I go No one understands me No one knows What I'm trying to say

No one understands me
They look at me when I talk to them
And they scratch their heads
They go what's he trying to say

But you, you speak my language Yeah you, you speak my language

All around the world Everywhere I go No one understands me No one knows What I'm trying to say

Even in my hometown

My friends make me write it down

They look at me when I talk to them

And they shrug their shoulders

They say what's he talking about
