

Stargazing

Collide

Oh you could be wondering
I would always be
And you could see the stars
Through the piece of sky
Missing some information you might need
Always, always, always
So captivated always shining deep beneath
So simulated illusions of your symmetry
I've got a secret I've got to seep in
I've got to piece it all together
I've got to seep in somewhere someplace
I've got to piece it all together
I could see the sky see me passing through
I've got a secret I've got to see through
I've got to piece it all together
I've got to seep in somewhere someplace
I've got to piece it all together
Tell me when you loose control
Tell me when you loose control
I can see the stars they captivate me
So transitory
Revelation eternity
Elevated illusions in the symmetry
I've got a secret
I've got to seep in
I've got to piece it all together
I got to seep in somewhere someplace
I've got to piece it all together
Tell me when you loose control
Tell me when you loose control
Turn the tables in infinity
You trade me places
Oh catch you later
Simulating eternity
Turn turn the tables
You want to reach to infinity
I've got a secret I've got to seep in
I've got to piece it all together
I got to seep in somewhere someplace
I've got to keep it all together
Turning tell me when you loose control
Turning tell me when you loose control
Turning tell me when you loose control
Tell me when you loose control
I could see the stars
Going forwards and sideways
Always always
