

Wake Up

Collide

See me unraveling
Feel the pressure
Not sure what the future brings

Look in the mirror
Spiraling underneath
Here inside the shadow
Not sure what the future brings
Crashing in tomorrow

Wake up your soul
It's so corruptible
With all their madness and all their gold
Wake up your soul
It's so bought and sold
Inside all this madness we've lost control

You change your right from wrong
It's just your destiny
And it's not for sale
Constantly re-imagine, it's all relative
You could see how it goes
Or if you need to fade, or just remain
The sun will still be there
It feels like not enough and every time you go

I don't know, I don't know

Wake up your soul
It's so corruptible
With all their madness and all their gold
Wake up your soul
It's so bought and sold
Inside all this madness we've lost control

Got to wake up, it's not right
Got to wake up before it's too late
Got to wake up, it's not enough
Got to wake up, it's not right
Got to wake up before it's too late
Wake up

Wake up your soul
It's so corruptible
With all their madness and all their gold
Wake up your soul
It's so bought and sold
Inside all this madness we've lost control

(Wake up) wake up your soul
