

Dancing With No Music Playing

Collin Raye

Me in my rented tuxedo
You in your big sister's dress
I could hear my own heart beating
When you laid your head on my chest

No telling how long it was since the last song
With the band gone and the lights all faded
All alone on that gym floor
Dancing with no music playing

Me in my rented tuxedo
You in your mama's white dress
Rice in your hair, your shoes in one hand
And one hand caressing my neck

The light from the moon filled that old hotel room
As my hands closed around your waist
And we were holding each other
Dancing with no music playing

Ohh, there's nothing to say
You take me away
Dancing with no music playing
Ohh, dancing with no music playing

Me in my old faded Levi
You in your blue cotton dress
Time, it don't have no effect on
The way that you still steal my breath

As we spin once more across the cold kitchen floor
Your warm cheek touches my face
And I could die in your arms
Dancing with no music playing

Ohh, I could die in your arms
Dancing with no music playing, ooh

(Dancing with no music playing)
Dancing with no music playing
(Dancing with no music playing)
