

God Complex

Colorblind

Bring the chaos
Drop the bomb and then take off
Pretend you're the one to trust in Feeding off the lovesick until it's paid off

'Cause that's how you win
Take things that you'd never give
Just one to take off the edge
Make them believe you're a friend

Just one to take off the edge
Twist around the words we said
Just to keep feeding your God complex
Throw away your common sense
It's too much, so just play pretend
Just to do it all again
Like it all goes hand in hand
Bend us till we break

Start the countdown
When there's nothing left to drown out
Light will shine through your facade, and You'll be just a profit with nothing to say now

'Cause that's how you win
Take things that you'd never give
Just one to take off the edge
Make them believe you're a friend

Just one to take off the edge
Twist around the words we said
Just to keep feeding your God complex
Throw away your common sense
It's too much, so just play pretend
Just to do it all again
Like it all goes hand in hand
Bend us till we break

Keep feeding your God complex
Twist around the words we said
'Cause that's how you win
It's all or nothing

Just one to take off the edge
Twist around the words we said
Just to keep feeding your God complex
Throw away your common sense
It's too much, so just play pretend
Just to do it all again
Like it all goes hand in hand
Bend us till we break

God complex
That's how you win
That's how you win
