

Needle Eye

Colorblind

Lately I've
Been having a hard time letting you go
It's gonna take some time to patch me up
I've been stuck in the house
Think I need to get out
I was afraid of bumping into you some how
Maybe I should just go

Just my luck I see you there
It tore me up but your fine

Tell me how do you sleep at night
You cut me open and just set me aside
Can't fit my love for you through a needle eye
Don't wanna hear the truth think I need a lie
Baby, just so I can get through the night
Tomorrow I will say goodbye

Wasted days
Drinking to forget I'm letting you go
I'm ashamed to say I'm not over you
I turn to someone else to ease my pain
End up doing the same damn thing
You reap what you sow
And become what you hate
Maybe I'm to blame

Tell me how do you sleep at night
You cut me open and just set me aside
Can't fit my love for you through a needle eye
Don't wanna hear the truth think I need a lie
Baby, just so I can get through the night
Tomorrow I will say goodbye

We all love like satin in lace
Until our edges are frayed

Tell me how do you sleep at night
You cut me open and just set me aside
Can't fit my love for you through a needle eye
Don't wanna hear the truth think I need a lie
Baby, just so I can get through the night
Tomorrow I will say goodbye
Tomorrow I will say goodbye
