

My Girlfriend's Got a Girlfriend

Colt Ford

Found a number on a napkin in her truck in a jacket that read
"I'd love to see you again"
Fuzzy handcuffs in the glovebox, new makeup and a toothbrush
And a key from the Holiday Inn
But two Dixie cups with lipstick on the rim
Got me thinkin' it might be a her, not a him

I think my girlfriend's got a girlfriend
Oh, but it ain't the end of the world
It ain't like she found herself another man
I think she just found another girl
And that's something that I can understand
For me lovin' women ain't nothin' new
I think my girlfriend's got a girlfriend
And I just hope she likes me too

Now maybe it's just wishful thinkin'
Got me thinkin' what I'm thinkin' but I
Can't stop from thinkin' that way
We're lovey-dovey, smoochy-smoochy
Heatin' up my jacuzzi
Makin' love like it's never been made
Maybe it's the wine, or heat is gettin' to me
Is it all in my mind or did she just call me Susie?
What?

I think my girlfriend's got a girlfriend
Oh, but it ain't the end of the world
It ain't like she found herself another man
I think she just found another girl
And that's something that I can understand
For me lovin' women ain't nothin' new
I think my girlfriend's got a girlfriend
And I just hope she likes me too

Pictures on her cellphone
A little lipstick color stain
A perfume scent, a sweet note
All adds up to just one thing

I think my girlfriend's got a girlfriend
Oh, but it ain't the end of the world
It ain't like she found herself another man
I think she just found another girl
And that's something that I can understand
For me lovin' women ain't nothin' new
I think my girlfriend's got a girlfriend
And I just hope she likes me too
I think my girlfriend's got a girlfriend
And I just hope she loves me too

Come on
How 'bout just all three of us hang out?
